

Tiago "Tostas" Rodrigues

Origem: Wikipédia, a enciclopédia livre.

Tiago “Tostas” Rodrigues FRS • GOIH • ComM (born 26th October 1997) is a famous portuguese computer scientist and an international expert in Robotics and Machine Learning. Currently, he is leading the world research in domestic robots at FP Robotics. He is also known for his extremely radical adventures and natural survival instinct.

He is the son of Portuguese parents: Margarida Rodrigues, his mother, is an Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) teacher at the Madorna High School of Thugs; his father Isidro Rodrigues, is a former military nurse. It is said that genital size comes from the mother, so, given the evidence, his mother might have asiatic ascendence. His big breasts are also an inheritance from his mother. His athleticism was inherited from his military father.

Early Life

Tiago usually says that he was born in Parede, but only a few know that, in fact, it happened in Madorna, Cascais, one of the most hardcore regions in Portugal. There, survival is not guaranteed for every child, which since a young age deal with drug trafficking and alcoholism. Even though there are not many records from his young life (as he was always living in his thug life, live fast, die young, YOLO), the earliest reports show that he actually was naturally gifted for sports, namely, he stood out in football. At the “Grupo Musical e Desportivo 9 de Abril de Trajouce” (this couldn’t be better) Academy he showed his skills. He usually played as centre-back, but his pace and game vision allowed his coaches to play him on the bench sometimes. He also broke the record for the youngest player playing at the senior level in Portugal, with only 10, when he was caught stealing the snacks from the older players and, to punish him, the president obliged him to ascend to the first team of GMD9AT (even better now). However, the sun doesn't shine forever and in the first 5 minutes of Tostas's first training he suffers a killer tackle from a 10 years older team-mate, Madrugadão Baldé, which resulted in a open fracture of the right tibia and fibula, along with an ACL rupture on the same right knee. Tostas was told by his personal doctors that he could not even be able to walk again. Surprisingly he could fully recover his walking and running capabilities. However, he couldn't ever recover his ankle breaking Pepe skills, forbidding Tostas from continuing his promising football career. We advised you that life is hard in Madorna.

As a consequence, Tostas had to give his life another route. He started getting involved in Scouts. Again, his bosses quickly acknowledged his natural talent for survival and cooking and two years after his entrance he was recognized as "The Best Scout in Portugal". His natural talent allowed him to keep the renewal of this award for the next 5 years.

Besides these accomplishments and as a consequence of his mindfulness, he recognized that the society is fastly evolving and if he wanted to keep leading, he had to adapt to the digital world. Therefore, it was by that time that he started his love for computers. He also started playing Counter-Strike, where he developed reflexes. The movie "The Dark Knight" is often considered a metaphor for his success in this video-game, as Tostas's nickname was "Pingu" (Penguins are mostly black, you're welcome). He also started having private english classes at Cambridge School, where he recurrently knocked out two older guys in order to steal their snack. Now, he perfectly domains the language.

In fact, during those days, with his street brothers from other mothers Duarte, Miguel and Francisco, and among scouts, counter-strike, joints, whiskey and "mboas" (the name which Madornians use to "hot girl"), he was truly living the Madorna Dream.

Education and University Life

Tostas university journey began in September 2015, when surprisingly he was denied access to a degree intended for females and feminine/gay males, Medicine. This news came as utter shock to everyone, since ever since a young age Tiago showed a very promising and innate knowledge in the medical field, and also considering his gayish personality that would make him very suitable for the degree. We can only blame it on the inadequate Portuguese admission process. This caused him to be relegated to a much manlier and honorable degree, Biomedical Engineering. Thus, from 2015 to 2018, Tostas completed his BSc in Biomedical Engineering at IST.

From 2018 to 2020, Tostas completed his MSc in Biomedical Engineering and Tourism at IST (Portugal), KTH (Sweden) and EPFL (Switzerland), with a break for a summer school at THU (China).

There are many more records from this period of his life. In fact, it was in his first year of university that the name "Tostas" appeared: from his previous experience in computers, naturally Tostas had ease on programming courses. Therefore, the contract he established with his colleagues was that he would do the whole project by himself, as his colleagues were responsible for feeding them with "tostas", the portuguese designation for toasts. This contract became legendary and if you go to the Maths Bar, at IST, you will still hear the cashier shout "Tosta" periodically to pay tribute to his outstanding capabilities. More precisely, the period between shouts is the average time that Tostas took to complete one 20/20 project.

Still regarding gastronomic experiences, Tostas also showed some brilliant other performances, where the main achievement was the ingestion of a pre-made 1kg lasagna in one dinner without effort. The main point is that more than half of that lasagna was eaten raw. He is a survivor. Our survivor. The portuguese Bear Grylls.

It was by that time that Tostas also founded the well-known comedy trio KRC <sup>[1]</sup>, along with two beautiful portuguese specimens: André Vieira and Manuel Madeira. The name is an acronym for Kit Rato Crew, as they usually gathered in Campo de Ourique (region of Lisbon whose nearest metro station is Rato). There they performed many ludic activities and started their sect, which included rituals and ordeals as labs, runs to Benfica at 3am, calls to Madrugadão Balde to avenge the incident at the GMD9AT training, among others. It was in this entrepreneurial spirit that Tostas achieved the work which launched him to the technologic and scientific spotlight: he is known to be the first (and unique) human to solve an NP-complete problem, thanks to his ultra-efficient SomaNat implementation. He also decided to relaunch his sportive life by trying to enter the IST football team. In the try-outs, he performed perfectly at a technical and tactical level, as expected, leading to the denial of his entrance to the team as his skills were considered to be above the interval allowed for the university championship. Nevertheless, it is worth mentioning that the fans that were watching the training went crazy with him and started calling him "Bruce", as a result of his not only physical but also footballistic similarities with the character of the same name from the anime "Captain Tsubasa". From that point on, Tostas started a gym brotherhood with André Vieira, with a negligible contribution from Maria Teresa Parreira. Besides building muscles, Tostas was paving his way towards the new crossfit exercise "muscle up". Tostas was its creator and still nowadays its best technical performer.

Regarding its more radical component, Tostas also had some incidents during his university time. In the end of the 1st year, he got involved in a street fight with his (former) friend Pedro Batalha. This happened in a group trip to Cristiano Ronaldo Island (former Madeira), where, after a few ponchas, Tostas felt nostalgic about his Madornian Dream and managed to find a punching bag. Not fully satisfied by the fight, if we can even call it that (the most appropriate designation would be "the complete destruction of his opponent"), Tostas continued to pursue the nostalgic sensation of the Madornian Dream, proceeding to drink as much poncha as he could find in his path and finally went to a casino, which he lead to bankruptcy (of ponchas, of course) through a profit of -100€. The journey ended with him having to visit the hospital due to alcohol poisoning. There, all the medical staff got baffled by the superhuman resistance to alcohol that Tostas demonstrated, as it was mentioned in the medical report that he ingested an amount of alcohol that would be enough to poison and kill an entire village of Russians. But the surprises wouldn't end there. Due to the amount of alcohol ingested, all the medical staff involved in Tostas recuperation assumed that he would require a lot of care, such as intravenous fluids, oxygen, stomach pumping, blood filtration and quite possibly a not so common blood transfusion, since his blood stream consisted in 75% of alcohol, 15% of blood cells and 10% Madornian adrenaline. However, none of that was necessary as the superhuman nature of Tiago "Tostas" Rodrigues allowed him to only require a power nap and a Snickers to fully recover. After being discharged, Tostas showed his innate medicine knowledge and gave some medical tips to the doctors. On his way out of the hospital, Tostas also delivered babies of three women and performed a brain tumor removal surgery as the designated surgeon lacked the skills to perform such a risky procedure <sup>[2]</sup>. The patient lived to have a full recovery and medical experts say that this was only possible due to the surreal perfection with which the surgery was performed. Out of curiosity, nothing has been known from Pedro Batalha since then.

Two years later, also after a friends gathering and some beers, Tostas was relaxed and having fun with his friends, discreetly looking for his mboas and everything was ok. But then, all of sudden his friends lost him. They were in panic and after searching for him for a while, they gave up and went to the closest metro station as it was likely that he was also there as he is a massive, strong, independent white boy. And it was when his group of friends were going downstairs that he appeared from the sky in a free fall. He landed perfectly and continued like nothing else happened, but everyone instantly knew that he had been saving the world. This episode motivated the movie "007: Skyfall". The next day, Tostas tried to mask it by sending pics of his "sprained" ankle, with some purple effect simulating blood, but of course those were made up purposely, as everybody knows that lions do not have purple blood. <sup>[3]</sup>

Finally, after another year, Tiago went in a Catholic peregrination to the sacred place of Fatima, where once some mystic appearances happened. Tiago was unrecognizable during those times, as he repeatedly said that he had found the light (when everybody knew that it could only be reflex, as he is the light) and that their friends should have gone with him to the peregrination. After some time, he came progressively back to reality, confessing he had only engaged in that catholic journey to try and have some sexual religious intercourse with some christian mboas. Some long-term consequences of alcoholism are related to hallucinations.

Love Life and Affairs

During the Madornian Dream, Tostas established many non-protected sexual relationships with many mboas from the region. Unfortunately, one of those “mboas” was specially sweet for Tostas. He liked when she appeared dressed like a nurse (we hope that you can identify her from this hint and we won't have to hurt susceptibilities) and satisfied his deepest fantasies. The rest we leave for you to imagine (yes, it includes anal).The relationship ended with Tostas getting inspired by Shawn Michaels and breaking her heart and turning her into a lesbian. HBK would be proud

After entering the university, Tiago immediately fell in love with a Tomb Raider cheap impersonator called Sofia Grilo. They had an affair when he managed to take her to a late night walk through Luminous Fountain, in Alameda, and scored xoxo. She got a boner and Tostas could feel his wetness down the legs. The love affair ended quickly with Tostas realizing his flirting skills were not up to date, probably due to all the years spent with the lesbian nurse without practicing them. Sofia Grilo also got inspired by HBK and dumped him. Tostas was left with a broken heart and a small genitalia.

After that, Tostas got involved in a serious relationship with Marta BigTits (translation of “Marufas”). Tostas had phenomenal sexual performances and even debuted the KRC headquarters. After giving her the world, she ended up betraying him with a xixito who was also her former boyfriend. From this, you can see that some women were not made for Real Man (capital letter) and that small dicks do not fulfill big tits. Nonetheless, Tiago couldn't let another man take his girl so easily, so he planned his revenge and “randomly” encountered them in a Portuguese Summer Festival called “MEO Sudoeste”. He proceeded to seduce her right under her boyfriend's nose, however discreetly, and managed to take her back to his tent, where they engaged in some more phenomenal sexual activities. The boyfriend then got suspicious and, just as the mischievous Tostas had planned, went to the tent only to find them right in the middle of Tostas Magic Fingers show. He realized that he would never be able to live up to Tiago's sexual prowess and just left, frustrated, leaving BigTits behind. Tiago then ditched that hoe also, since KRC's motto is “Those who didn't have it while they could, won't have it when they want ”.

One night, a surprise love affair arose when, during a Biomedical dinner party, The Man was caught by the paparazzi kissing his colleague and friend Margarida Lopes in the cheek. When asked about it in the morning after by his Before Anyone Else friends Manuel and André, he was completely surprised, since, unsurprisingly, considering his past history of alcohol abuse, he was completely drunk when it happened and couldn't remember anything about that night. To this day, this affair never gathered consensus among KRC, as none of them can describe exactly what happened between them. Some would call it a case of “being needy”, others “sexual tension” or even “repressed love”. It is also said that the disappearance in the night of the skyfall is not attributable to the act of saving the world, but to the act of cuddling with Lopes.

Ever since his first years in university, Tostas and his friend Maria Teresa Parreira showed a great amount of sexual tension between them, which only increased during the five years they worked closely as group partners in almost every course. This sexual tension was often disguised as meaningless and slightly aggressive discussions during group works, which often made their friends André and Manuel to experience discomfort due to all the sexual energy that would arise in those situations. To this day, they never acted on their clear feelings about each other, but everyone knows that it is just a matter of time until something happens. In fact, his very altruistic friend Manuel even went so far as to, on the fatidic night of 31/12/2019, giving a xoxo, and a little bit more, to Maria Teresa, as it is common knowledge that the best wingman strategy is to score a xoxo to open the game for your friend. Conspiracy Theories also dissert about the possibility of the fight in Cristiano Ronaldo Island being a trial from Tostas to conquer not only the place of alpha male of the group but also of his place at her heart, as she was one of the friends present there.

Tiago's history of passions for college friends doesn't end here, as rumours say that he is wildly attracted to his colleague Marianinha Bento, Inês Godinho's best friend. He is often suggesting to his bestest friend André to engage with him in a 2v2 with the beauties, but André is always reluctant as he is not the type of man to have meaningless sexual relationships with women.

Currently, Tiago is married to Salomé Santos. Soon, she will also move to Switzerland, where he currently works and the couple plans to have two children (hopefully male twins): Manuel and André Santos Rodrigues. However, it is believed by his closest friends that this relationship is doomed to failure as Tostas his destined to have a meaningless short term relationship of hardcore sex with Marianinha Bento which will end so he can marry his college sweetheart Maria Teresa, with whom he will have two to three kids. None of these kids will be named Manuel or André in honor of his best friends since they don't want to be associated with that person in any way.

Professional Career

Currently, Tiago Rodrigues, at the same time that he finishes his MSc thesis, is working at FP Robotics, where he can count on the help of his personal translator André "Bigodes" Morgado to tackle the problems that still haunt the laundry business, which despite being one of the hottest topics in the world right now, still lack some cutting-edge algorithms and rigorous mathematical treatment in its applications. It is said that Tiago is on the verge of laying the foundations on another theoretical framework addressing a generalization of his previous SomaNat implementation - a leak announced that it will be called ToastFairy, as an allusion to the main sponsor of the project, "Fairy" the detergent, and to his nickname Toasts. It is also a reference to "Tooth Fairy", which his mother confessed to be his favourite movie, along with "Barbie in the Nutcracker".

And even though the night is dark and full of terrors, with Tostas also having the right to question himself and his life, Humanity places its hopes in the capacity of Tostas overcoming this crisis, being a metaphor to the sequel "The Dark Knight Rises"<sup>[5]</sup>. Parabéns, Tiago.
